INSTANTLY create professionally designed stamps in minutes.

HOW TO MAKE A STAMP

Brother has developed and perfected a totally new and revolutionary way to impose images onto rubber stamp surfaces. After you create the image on your computer and insert the text, the rest of the process will take just a few minutes. Ink never touches your fingers...this dry process is absolutely clean.

1. Start the Stamp Editor program on your PC and create your layout by selecting your stamp size, importing images, and formatting your text.

2. The Stampcreator PRO System will instantly transfer the image you have prepared on your computer screen into a transparent film, which will be loaded automatically from the magazine tray inside. 600 dpi thermal transfer printing will reproduce every detail from your graphics. Open the window and you will see the film (positive master) for your stamp positioned above the Xenon Flash Assembly.

5. The surface of the stamp is made of a light sensitive rubber material specially developed for the Brother Stampcreator PRO System. Light from the Xenon flash causes millions of micro-pores in the stamp surface to close. Only the pores protected by the black printing on the positive master film will remain open.

3. Position a blank stamp in the stamp creation bay above the Xenon flash assembly.

4. When the door to the stamp creation bay is shut, the Xenon flash is automatically triggered.

6. Attaching the stamp handle causes the ink pack embedded in the stamper base to open. Keep the stamp upright for a few minutes for all the ink to absorb. After a brief "Cure Time," the ink is absorbed by the stamp material and will be ready to use. An ID label to be placed on top of the stamp for identification can be printed in the same way.

50,000 impressions ensure a virtually unlimited stamp life!
